Unemployed Graduate Engineers in Assam

*147. SHRI BHADRESWAR BURAGOHAIN: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) what is the total number of unemployed graduate engineers in Assam at present;

(b) since when they are unemployed; and

(c) whether any scheme has been chalked out by Government either State or Central to provide employment to those engineers?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF THE MINISTRY OF COAL (SHRI P. A. SANGMA): (a) to (c) As per the information available on the basis of certain studies made in 1990, the estimated number of unemployed degree holders in Engineering in Assam was 140. Information regarding the period for which they were unemployed is not available.

The Eighth Five Year Plan envisages a geographically and crop-wise diversified agricultural development, development of rural non-farm sector, faster growth of small and decentralised manufacturing, expansion of housing, health services and education and strengthening of infrastructure like energy, transport, communication and irrigation which should generate substantial employment opportunities for the educated, including technical and other graduates. As per information available, the State Government in their Eighth Plan or in the Annual Plan for 1992-93 have not suggested any special employment scheme for the unemployed engineers.
